Gene Weeks joins the sales team at BAU/HOPKINS. Gene's many years of experience and broad background in the industrial and Municipal marketplace in New England will insure that BAU/HOPKINS, CUSTOMERS & PRINCIPALS will continue to receive the high level of support and service that they have come to expect.

Gene's responsibilities in the sales area will include all activities that lead to cost effective estimates and timely proposals for all product lines represented. Gene will also assist with the post order control activities for all product lines.

Gene holds a Bachelors of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Swarthmore College in Swarthmore, PA. He also holds a Masters in Education from the University of New Hampshire in Durham, NH.

Prior to joining BAU/HOPKINS, Gene's Career path has taken him through various Engineering, Applications, Sales and Management positions with several Capital Equipment Manufacturers. During this time Gene also worked directly with Manufacturer's Representatives that serviced both the Industrial and Municipal markets in the New England area.
